

Darlene Motley, Ph.D.
Dean, School of Arts, Science & Business

Dr. Darlene Motley is the founding Dean of the School of Arts, Science & Business (SASB), as well as the Dean of Chatham Undergraduate College. Prior to joining Chatham, Dr. Motley worked at Robert Morris University, rising through the academic ranks to full professor and served as program director, department chair, and associate dean. Dr. Motley holds a Ph.D. in Organizational Behavior, with a minor in international business, from the Katz Graduate School of Business at the University of Pittsburgh; an MBA from the University of Chicago, where she also completed an exchange at the London Graduate School of Business, London, England; and a BS in Industrial Engineering from the University of Pittsburgh. She has championed for and now co-chairs the Diversity & Inclusion Council at Chatham. This Council is comprised of faculty, staff, and students and is a resource for addressing ideas and concerns in an increasingly divided political/social climate.

.....

SASB houses graduate programs in the areas of business, biology, creative writing, professional writing, and more. SASB also offers 40 undergraduate majors spanning the areas of business, immersive media, education, humanities, arts, international studies, social sciences, creative writing, and interior architecture.